

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING YOUR MODIFICATION OF CHILD SUPPORT

A modification of child support is allowed if the parties can show a change in income or financial status. If the parties agreed on child support in their divorce Settlement Agreement, they may modify the terms of the Agreement. The Department of Human resources has the power to periodically review and modify child support orders which were agency decisions (but not ones made by court order).

An uncontested case is one in which the parties can work out and sign an agreement regarding child support. A contested case is one in which the parties cannot work out an agreement regarding issues such as child support. The parties ask the judge to settle arguments between them, and each will have to present evidence at a trial. This process can be quite complicated. You will probably need additional documents in order to conduct discovery, which is a formal process of gathering evidence for use at trial. Discovery can include depositions, interrogatories, requests for production of documents, and other procedures. The law library has form books which contain discovery documents you might need. Because discovery is a highly individualized process, it is not possible to include those documents in this packet.

YOU MAY NEED AN ATTORNEY IF:

- The case is contested and your opponent has a lawyer.
- You cannot find your opponent to serve him or her with your papers.
- You might lose custody of your children.
- You think you will have difficulty getting information and documents from your ex-spouse regarding income, retirement funds, etc.
- The children and the custodial parent are not in Georgia.

Even if it is a friendly action, you should talk to a lawyer before you sign any settlement papers or file anything in court.

DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS:

STEP 1: Complete the Filing Information and Final Disposition Forms

These forms are required by Georgia Law, at O.C.G.A. § 9-11-133. They help the Clerk of Court keep statistical information about the number and types of cases decided in our local courts. The clerks use this information to prepare case management reports for the Chief Judge of each circuit and for the Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. In short, having this information helps us to run the court system more efficiently for you.

The Filing Information form

- a. In the top line, fill in the county where you are filing and the date filed.
- b. In the second line, fill in the names of the Plaintiff and Defendant.
- c. Where it says “Plaintiff/Petitioner’s Attorney,” check the box which says Pro Se. This indicates that you are representing yourself without an attorney.
- d. In the left-hand box, check off what kind of case this is. Since this is a custody modification action, you will check “ Modification—Child Support.” In the right hand box, indicate whether or not you are asking for relief from family violence by checking yes or no in the appropriate boxes.

The Final Disposition form

The purpose of this form is to tell how your case ends. Since your case is far from over, you should NOT fill in the information in the three big boxes at the bottom of the page. At this point, we do not know how the case will end.

- a. In the top line, fill in only the county where you are filing. We do not yet know the date disposed, since you have not yet received a final order from the judge.
- b. Leave the second line, “Docket #,” blank. The clerk will assign this number.
- c. Write your name where it says “Reporting party.”
- d. Write down the full names of the Plaintiff and Defendant.
- e. Where it says Plaintiff/Petitioner’s Attorney, you will check the box which says Pro Se. This shows that you are representing yourself. Since you are not a licensed attorney, you do not have a Bar #, so leave those blanks empty.

STEP 1: Complete the Complaint for Modification of Child Support.

Fill in your full name as the Plaintiff and the Defendant’s full name. Do not fill in where it says Civil Action File No. The clerk will assign a number to your case when you file your complaint. Then insert your name and the Defendant’s names in the space provided just before paragraph one (1).

Paragraph 1: Jurisdiction and Venue

If your child support order was made in Georgia, you must follow O.C.G.A. § 19-6-26(c), which provides that “A court of this state may exercise continuing, exclusive jurisdiction for purposes of entering a modification of a child support order issued by a court of this state if the child or children named in the child support order or any party to the action resides in this state.”

If your child support order was made in another state, you must follow O.C.G.A. § 19-6-26 (d), which is quite complicated. You are strongly encouraged to consult with an attorney in this situation.

Check box a) if the Defendant lives in the county where you are filing and can be served with the complaint at his or her street address.

Sole legal and physical custody. In this arrangement, one parent assumes the decision-making responsibility, and the children spend most of their time with that parent.
