

PATERNITY PACKET

What does "paternity" mean?

Paternity is a legal word for "fatherhood". When you establish paternity, this means that you have gone through a legal process to identify a man as the biological father of a child.

How may the paternity of a child be established?

Paternity of child can be established in the following ways:

(1) The mother and father can sign a voluntary acknowledgment of paternity. This acknowledgment form is recorded in the putative father registry maintained by the Department of Human Resources. For more information about the Georgia Paternity Acknowledgement Program, call 1-866-286-2862.

(2) The mother or the father or any other person allowed by law to start a paternity action may file a petition in the Superior Court or the State Court to establish paternity.

(3) If the Department of Human Resources seeks to establish paternity of a child, the Office of State Administrative Hearings has the authority to decide the issue of paternity. However, the man who has been identified as the putative father can deny that he is the father of the child and demand a trial in the Superior Court.

Who can start an action to establish paternity?

An legal action to establish paternity of a minor can be brought by the child, the mother of the child, a person who is alleged to be the father, any relative taking care of the child, and, in certain circumstances, the Department of Human Resources (in the name of and for the benefit of the child).

Where can an action to establish paternity be filed?

If the father is a Georgia resident, the suit may be brought in the state or superior court of the county in which the father resides. If the father is a nonresident, the suit may be brought in the state or superior court where the child resides.

Does the mother of the child have to be a party to the legal action and does she have to be notified?

If the mother is subject to the jurisdiction of the court where the petition for paternity has been filed, she must be a party to the law suit. If she is not subject to the court's jurisdiction, she must at least be given notice of the petition for paternity and she must be given an opportunity to be heard in the court.

After paternity is established, does the father have any rights to the child?

Under Georgia law, the birth mother is the only person entitled to custody of a child born out of wedlock, unless the father has gone through the process of legitimating the child. In a paternity action if the court finds that a man is the father of a child, the court can also order that the man have visitation rights with the child (if the court finds that visitation would be in the best interests of the child).

If the father's name is on the birth certificate, does he have any rights to the child?

Under Georgia law, the birth mother is the only person entitled to custody of a child born out of wedlock, unless the father has gone through the process of legitimating the child. This is the case even if the father's name is on the birth certificate. The father must go through legitimation to have rights to a child born out of wedlock.

Does it matter if the father's name or social security number is on the child's birth certificate?

If a man's name or social security number is on the child's birth certificate and someone files a petition to establish paternity, the burden of proof is on the man to prove that he is not the father.

If the birth certificate of the child does not contain any information about the father, person or agency that filed the paternity action must prove that the man is the father.

Can DNA testing be used to prove or disprove paternity?

Any party to the action may make a motion for the court to order DNA testing. The court must grant the motion unless someone shows that there is good cause not to order DNA testing. The person who requests the testing is responsible for any costs of the testing.

What is the result of a finding that the man is the father of the child in a paternity case?

If the court finds that a man is the father of a child, the father has a duty to support the child financially. This means that the man must pay child support. The court's order may also provide that the father has the right to visit with the child (visitation privileges) if the court finds that visitation would be in the best interests of the child.

What happens if a paternity action is brought before the child is born?

In this situation, all legal proceedings will be stayed until after the birth except service of process, discovery, and the taking of depositions.

Notice To: Employer or any other person, private entity, Federal or State Government, or any unit of local government providing or administering income due to Defendant

Re: Income Deduction Order

DATE: _____

Attached you will find an Income Deduction Order, please read this Order carefully and follow the instructions as written. If you have any questions you should contact your attorney. Employers are required by law to deduct from income due and payable and employee the amount designated by the Court to meet support obligations. Income includes wages, salary, bonuses, commissions, compensation as an independent contractor, workers' compensation, disability benefits, annuities and retirement benefits, pensions, dividends, royalties, or any other payment to an employee. FAILURE TO DEDUCT THE AMOUNT DESIGNATED BY THE COURT MAKES THE EMPLOYER LIABLE FOR THE AMOUNT THAT SHOULD HAVE BEEN DEDUCTED PLUS COSTS, INTEREST AND REASONABLE ATTORNEYS' FEES.

Payments must begin no later than the first pay period after fourteen (14) days following the postmark of the notice. You are required to forward to the person or entity specified in the Income Deduction Order within two (2) days after each payment date the amount deducted from the employee's income and a statement as to whether the amount forwarded totally or partially satisfies the periodic amount specified in the Income Deduction Order.

This deduction has priority over all other legal processes under Georgia law pertaining to the same income and the payment required by the Income Deduction Order. It is a complete defense against any claims of the employee or the employee's creditors as to the sum paid.

Employers must continue to deduct the child support amount and send it to the person or entity specified in the Income Deduction Order until further notice by the Court or until the income is no longer provided to the employee. In the event the income is no longer provided, the employer is required to notify the person or entity specified in the Income Deduction Order immediately of such and to give the employee's last known address and to provide a name and address of any new employer of this employee if known. FAILURE TO DO THIS WILL RESULT IN A CIVIL PENALTY BEING IMPOSED, NOT TO EXCEED $250.00 FOR THE FIRST VIOLATION OR $500.00 FOR A SUBSEQUENT VIOLATION.

Employers may not discharge an employee by reason of the entry of an Income Deduction Order. If an employee is discharged because of this reason, A FINE OF NOT MORE THAN $250.00 FOR THE FIRST VIOLATION AND $500.00 FOR A SUBSEQUENT VIOLATION WILL BE IMPOSED AGAINST THE EMPLOYER.

Employers should contact their attorney if more than one Income Deduction Order is received against the same employee.

Employers may send a single payment if multiple employees have Income Deduction Orders to pay to the same depository provided the amount attributed to each employee is identified.

An employer may collect up to $25.00 against the employee's income to reimburse for the administrative costs of the first income deduction and up to $3.00 for each subsequent income deduction.
